Overview

Emily Neumann is Managing Partner at Reddy Neumann Brown PC with over 15 years of experience practicing US immigration law providing services to U.S. businesses and multinational corporations. Emily has helped transform the firm from a solo practice to Houston's largest immigration law firm focused exclusively on U.S. employment-based immigration. She received her Bachelor's degree in Biology from Central Michigan University and her Juris Doctorate degree from the University of Houston Law Center. Emily has been quoted in Bloomberg Law, U.S. News & World Report, Inside Higher Ed, and The Times of India on various hot topics in immigration. She is a member of the American Immigration Lawyers Association and Society for Human Resource Management.

Emily is a conscientious and dedicated immigration attorney handling work visas in both nonimmigrant and immigrant areas. She guides employers and individuals through the constantly changing maze of immigration laws and delivers first-class results with precision and minimal fuss.

She has authored articles and e-books on business immigration and has been a frequent speaker at gatherings of IT and HR professionals on immigration matters. Emily's blog, immigrationgirl.com, is visited by thousands each week and provides useful information from the desk of an immigration attorney.

She earns respect from her clients for her ability to listen and she adds value through better execution. Emily is intensely competitive and always looking to achieve the best quality, highest level, and the most excellent results for her clients.
